[1 UIE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt I paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but fees equals, and no superiors. They are bounded upon the very best securities in the werld—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teahes, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-add statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and forms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

He would see ten thousand of the finest farms in the world, still in the possession of their owners, and bearing a sufficient burthen in a single season, to discharge what appeared to him a hopeless load of debts, and incumbrances; yea, he would see these ten thousand farmers and their rising young families, hopeful and happy at home, who, if they had taken his advice, to surrender the first tend to their or and their rising young they had taken his advice, to surrender their property to their oraditors would be for the finest tend to the first t He would see ten thousand of the finest up their property to their creditors, would now have been kiting over the plains to Kausas, Pike's Peak, and California, or scattered, the Lord knows whither, and their abaundoned farms growing up to weeds, (usually for the first year at least,) all of which simply proves that the Tribune, though usually an honest and wise guide, is not always safe to follow, against the dictates of our judgment. Corn, oats, barley, rye and all the root crops are promising argely, all through the West, except it may be in streaks. The grass crop upon old and uplands is, perhaps, rather light, but, as a whole, the hay crop must be large, and every way ample, with the straw and corn fodder crop for the stock of the country. even though winter should be much harder than the last. Altogether the country never hore such a burthen of crops as now; and may not again in a lifetime. Wisconsin alone must have an aggregate of perhaps $60,000,000 worth of assiluate; but the same aggregate of perhaps w. R. ARTHER, Superintendent. $60,000,000 worth of products; but no matter! it will not hurt us in our present economical spirit, but undondtedly help us immensely in the way of relieving our old embarrassments.

In our opinion merchants will do well to buy light, and farmers to buy lighter yet. The profits of ordinary farming will never warrant one half the extravagance of the past; that is certaiu.

We wish New Yorkers would stick to their text, and refuse to trust western merchants at all; it would soon be the better for all of us, beyond a doubt. But the rascals will do no such thing; they are already scenting our big wheat crops in the distance, and smiling blandly upon us. Beware of that smile I beneath it lurks a curse—the curse of debt; and few are greater, especially with a howling pack of creditors at nur.

Think of all these things, good lady, as you "go to the store;" don't bny so much as a new apron string, and go in debt for it, if you can help it; to all coaxing solicitations let the answer be NO! emphatically. Industry, good crops, and fragality are the only legitimate avenues to wealth, even in Wisconsin.

The show of abundant crops seems to be dreaded by many; but the way the old crop is going off, even to Europe, compled with the fact of the prospect of poor crops there, looks quite encouraging at least. We believe our whole crop of marketable wheat will sell as high as $1,00 per bushel, during the year, at the lake ports, and quite likely for something more. Doubtless there will be croakers about at the opening of the market, trying to depress prices for speculating purposes; they tried the same experiment upon the last wool crop, but signally failed; while they ceaselessly assured us that the clip must be from five to seven cents lower than last year, it finally sold somewhat higher. Let us then go on and secure our fine crops in the best possible shape, and wait with faith and patience for a good fair price, at least; and we have no doubt but it will be realized.

Form the Wisconsin Farmer The Crop Prospects of 1860-Prices &c.

Throughout all portions of the great grain. growing West, north of a line running east and west, through St. Louis, the sowed grain crops are among the finest that the country has ever produced. Wheat, particularly has ever produced. ularly, beats every thing in the West, as a whole, especially in our own state; unless there is something exceedingly deceptive in appearnaces, we shall expect to hear of many extraordinary yields at threshing. Still we doubt whether the wheat will equal the straw in growth.

But with simply a good yield, the wast number of acres in Wisconsin, will turn out. an aggregate crop that cannot fall much short of 25,000,000 of bushels; three-fourths of this, for sale at a fair price, will, when added to our other marketable products, amount to a handsome sum towards paying up our old debts as well as supplying our current needs.

We think if our good friend Greeley were to pass through our state at the present time, instead of miserable, bleak winter, as in all cases hitherto, he would see some show of ability to pay our debts. Count-less thousands of acres of ripening wheat, high as the fences, and thick as hair, promising their twenty-five to thirty bushels ising their twenty-use to thirty ousness to the acre, would undoubtedly gladden his heart and strengthen his courage, and lead him to advise us to hold on a little longer, and try to pay our individual debts short of assignment or bankruptcy? He would see ten thousand of the finest farms in the world, still in the possession of their owners, and bearing a sufficient bur-then in a single season, to discharge what appeared to him a hopeless load of debts, and incumbrances; yea, he would see these ten thousand farmers and their rising young families; hopeful and happy at home, who if they had taken his advice, to surrender up their property to their ereditors, would now have been kiting over the plains to Kansas, Pike's Peak, and California, or scattered, the Lord knows whither, and their abaundoned farms growing up to weeds, (usually for the first year at least,) all of which simply proves that the Tribune, though usually an honest and wise guide, is not always safe to follow, against the dictates of our judgment. Corn, oats, barley, rye and all the root crops are promising largely, all through the West, except it may be in streaks. The grass crop upon old and uplands is, perhaps, rather light, but, as a whole, the hay crop must be large, and every way ample, with the straw and corn fodder crop for the stock of the country, even though winter should be much barder than the last. Altogether the country never bore such a burthen of crops as now; and may not again in a lifetime. Wisconsin alone must have an aggregate of perhaps $60,000,000 worth of products; but no matter! it will not hurt us in our present eco-nomical spirit, but undondtedly help us inmensely in the way of relieving our old embarrassments.

We hope that our merchants, notwith standing the fine promise of crops, will have mercy on the people, and bring on as few goods as they conscientiously can—the few-er the better. Merchant's gewgaws have had a terrible hand, during what were called the good times, in cleaning the farmers out. Many a wheat crop was nearly or quite traded out before it was harvested, and sometimes, in fact, before it was sowed.—
This, as a system, is all wrong, and would ruin any farming community. In our opin-ion merchants will do well to buy light, and farmers to buy lighter yet. The profits of ordinary farming will never warrant one half the extravagance, of the past; that is certain. We wish New Yorkers would stick to their text, and refuse to trust 'western merchants at all; it would soon be the better for all of us, beyond a doubt. But the rascals will do no such thing; they are already scenting our big wheat crops in the distance, and smiling blandly upon us. Beware of that smile! beneath it lurks a curse—the curse of debt; and few are greater; especially with a howling pack of creditors at our heels, demanding high interest or instant sacrifice in case of default. Think of all these things, good lady, as you "go to the store;" don't bny so much as a new aprop string, and go in debt for it, if you can help it; to all coaxing solicitations let the ans wer be NO! emphatically. Industry, good crops, and frugality are the only legitimate avenues to wealth, even in Wisconsin.

The show of abundant groups seems to be dreaded by many; but the way the old crop is going off, even to Europe, coupled with the fact of the prospect of poor crops there, looks quite encouraging at least. We helieve our whole crop of marketable wheat will sell as high as $1,00 per bushel, during the year, at the lake ports, and quite likely for something more. Doubtless there will be creakers about at the opening of the market, trying to depress prices for speculating purposes; they tried the same experiment upon the last wool crop, but signally failed; while they ceaselessly assured us that the clip must be from five to sever cents lower than last year, it finally sold somewhat higher. Let us then go on and secure our fine crops in the best possible shape, and wait with faith and patience for a good fair price, at least; and we have no loubt but it will be realized.

SOFTENING HARD WATER. - some twenty years ago, a well was dug twenty feet deep, on the Cottage Hill Farm, near Ravenna, It contained eight feet of waterafter being stoned—the earth about which was blue clay, and the water was very hard. The serious defect was cured entirely, and the water softened permanently by putting into the well about four feet of gravel of the size of beans and upwards.

To SOFTEN OLD PUTTY. - In removing old broken panes from a window, it is generally very difficult to get off the hard, dry putty that sticks round the glass and it frame. Dip a small brush in a little; nitric or muriatic acid, to be obtained at the druggists, and go over the putty with it. it. Let it rest awhile and it will soon become so soft that you can remove it with

A NICE WAY TO SERVE CHICKENS OR PIGEONS A SECOND TIME—Cut them into four quarters, beat up an egg or two accordiour quarters, heat up an egg or two according to what you have to dress, grate a nutmeg in some salt, chop parsley, a few bread crumbs—mix all well together, dip them in this batter, and have some drippings, hot in a stew pan, in which fry them of a fine light brown. Make a little grayy thickened slightly with flour. Lay the fowl on a dish and pour the sance over it. A could wake the and pour the sauce over it. The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the numons. he purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but five equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the var best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks; which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past seches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of composition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided starements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital lovice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by fintual Companies, and a cortainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company, CASH CAPITAL DVER - $1,900,000 all well invested for the henefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this wast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

Form the Wisconsin Farmer The Crop Prospects of 1860-Prices &c.

Throughout all portions of the great grain. growing West, north of a line running east and west, through St. Louis, the sowed grain crops are among the finest that the country has ever produced. Wheat, particularly, beats every thing in the West, as a whole, especially in our own state; unless there is something exceedingly deceptive in appearnaces, we shall expect to hear of many extraordinary yields at threshing. Still we doubt whether the wheat will equal the straw in growth.

But with simply a good yield, the vast number of acres in Wisconsin, will turn out an aggregate crop that cannot fall much short of 25,000,000 of bushels; three-fourths of this, for sale at a fair price, will, when added to our other marketable products, amount to a handsome sum towards paying up our old debts as well as supplying our urrent needs.

We think if our good friend Greeley were to pass through our state at the present time, instead of miserable, bleak winter, as n all cases hitherto, he would see some show of ability to pay our debts. Count-less thousands of acres of ripening wheat, high as the fences, and thick as hair, promising their twenty-five to thirty bushels to the acre, would undoubtedly gladden his heart and strengthen his courage, and lead him to advise us to hold on a little longer, and try to pay our individual debts short of assignment or bankruptcy.

He would see ten thousand of the finest farms in the world, still in the possession of their owners, and bearing a sufficient burthen in a single season, to discharge what appeared to him a hopeless load of debts, and incumbrances; yea, he would see these ten thousand farmers and their rising young families, hopeful and happy at home, who, if they had taken his advice, to surrender up their property to their creditors, would now have been kiting over the plains to Kansas, Pike's Peak, and California, or scattered, the Lord knows whither, and their abaundoned farms growing up to weeds, (usually for the first year at least,) all of which simply proves that the Tribune though usually an honest and wise guide, is not always safe to follow, against the dictates of our judgment. Corn, oats, barley, rye and all the root crops are promising largely, all through the West, except it may be in streaks. The grass crop upon old and uplands is, perhaps, rather light, but, as a whole, the hay crop must be large, and every way ample, with the straw and corn fodder crop for the stock of the country, even though winter should be much harder than the last. Altogether the country never bore such a burthan of crops as a way and may not again in a lifetime. Wisconsin

OCEAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY'S The show of abundant crops seems to be dreaded by many; but the way the old crop s going off, even to Europe, coupled with the fact of the prospect of poor crops there, looks quite encouraging at least. We believe our whole crop of marketable whent will sell as high as $1,00 per bushel, during the year, at the lake ports, and quite likely for something more. Doubtless there will be croakers about at the opening of the market, trying to depress prices for specu-lating purposes; they tried the same experiment upon the last wool crop, but signally failed; while they ceaselessly assured us that the clip must be from five to seven cents lower than last year, it finally sold somewhat higher. Let us then go on and secure our fine crops in the best possible shape, and wait with faith and patience for a good fair price, at least; and we have no doubt but it will be realized.

SOFTENING HARD WATER .-- some twenty years ago, a well was dug twenty feet deep, on the Cottage Hill Farm, near Ravenna, Ohlo, It contained eight feet of water after being stoned—the earth about which was blue clay, and the water was very hard, The serious defect was cured entirely, and the water softened permanently by putting into the well about four feet of gravel of the size of beans and upwards.

To Soften Old Putty. - In removing old broken panes from a window, it is generally very difficult to get off the hard, dry putty that sticks round the glass and its frame. Dip a small brush in a little nitric or muriatic acid,—to be obtained at the druggists,—and go over the putty with it. it. Let it rest awhile and it will soon become so soft that you can remove it with A NICE WAY TO SERVE CHICKENS OR

PIGEONS A SECOND TIME.—Cut them into four quarters, beat up an egg or two according to what you have to dress, grate a mutmeg in some salt, chop parsley, a few bread crumbs-mix all well together, dip them in this batter, and have some drippings, hot in a stew pan, in which frythem of a fine light brown. Make a little gravy thickened slightly with flour. Lay the fowl on a dish and pour the sauce over it. A cold rabbit served in the same way is good eating.

Breckinridge Movements.

The Breckinridge men of this state have held meetings at Milwaukee, Madison and Beaver Dam. They were all small gatherings, but they indicate that there is no inconsiderable number of politicians of that stamp in Wisconsin. The only allusion to an electoral ticket was at the Milwaukee meeting, at which the holding of a mass convention for nominating, on the 4th of September, was recommended. The Breckinridge party have held their state convention in Indiana, and did not put up a separate electoral ticket, but contented themselves with abusing Douglas. These adroit politicians are "figuring." They are content to help Douglas carry some of the northern states, fearing that "old Abe" will be elected by the people. They want to throw the election into congress, so that Jo Lane will be chosen, and they are making "catspaws" of Douglas and his followers for that purpose. Everybody knows there are no hopes of electing Douglas, and the only other chance there is for the democracy, is to elect Lane. In that case the presidents, secretaries and committee men who figure in these meetings, will take the offices, while the Douglas men will be overlooked but the meekest of men would submit to such treatment without resenting it.

Of course, as the state central committee is now constituted, Rock county might have saved herself the trouble of making an application for this meeting to be held here. the republican cause in the state the most good by being held at Madison, we say amen to it. Something ought to be done to regain our lost majority in Dane county.-It is good missionary ground, where sinners may be converted, and a great many backsliders re-claimed. On the whole, we are not sure but the committee have decided wisely, and we have no doubt that the republicans of this city and county will do their share in making the proposed meeting the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the state. The day upon which the meeting is to be held is not named.

. The Springfield Meeting.

We have alluded before, to the great gathering of republicans which will come off a Springfield, Ill., on the 8th of August. We presume that there are some who would like to attend from this vicinity and we publish the following railroad arrangement, by which it will be seen that people can go from this city at half fare to Chicago, and from thence for three dollars the round trip.

The great train leaves Chicago on Tuesday evening, August 7th, at 8 o'clock, to reach Springfield on the following morning, via the Illinois Central railroad, the fare from Chicago, to go and return, being three dollars, or less than one third the regular fare. Clubs or Wide Awake associations of fifty will be carried at two dollars and fifty cents per man. Cars will be reserved for ladies, and gentlemen with ladies.

Arrangements have been made with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy (from all stations east of Earl,) the Chicago & Northwestern (at Jancsville, Woodstock and Barrington,) the Chicago & Milwaukee (at Racine, Kenosha and Waukegan,) the Galena & Chicago Union (all stations east of Freeport,) and at all points on the Dixon Air Line, to carry passengers at half fare to by those who know Jed. He has been an Chicago and return, to connect with the great excursion train from Chicago.

NORTH CAROLINA.-The returns from North Carolina do not indicate that the Breckinridge candidate for Governor is so badly beaten as it was expected he would be. The know nothing candidate, Pool, is supported by the Douglas men, and must gain 11,560, (Buchanan's majority,) to be should be beaten, they ought to retire from the field at the presidential election.

The Douglas party is collapsing in Alabama. Two of the original Douglas men, nominated on their electoral ticket-J. T. Clements and A. B. Witherall-have declined, and declared their purpose of supporting Breckingidge and Lane. The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser says there are fifty-three papers in that state which sustain these candidates.

Four thousand republicans, headed by one. thousand Wide-Awakes, were in procession at Hartford, Connecticut, Friday evening last. There were delegations from Newark, and New Haven. The Hartford Wide Awakes presented to their Newark brethren a piece of the Charter Oak and an original rail. The Newark Wide-Awakes gave a magnificent blue silk banner to the Hartford boys. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed and great good feeling existed. After the meeting a torchlight procession two miles in length marched all about the city, with music, banners and flags. Speeches were made by Senator Dixon, Gov. Catlin and others.

Long Faces on Festive Occasions.

The Madison Argus contains a communiation from some one whose " moral sense" is outraged because one of the speakers upon the occasion of the excursion of the Madison "Band of Hope" to this city, announced in a playful manner that it was expected that there would be no "long faces" there that day, that it was desirable that all should -cast aside as no longer useful. Mankind are to be led, not driven into religion by harshness; the days of monastic austerity have passed away, and in these times no man is regarded as a Saint, because he wears a long face at Sabbath school excursions. The Springfield Meeting.

We have ultuded before, to the great gathering of republicans which will come off a Springfield, Ill., on the 8th of August. We presume that there are some who would lish the following railroad arrangement, by which it will be seen that people can go from this city at half fare to Chicago, and from thence for three dollars the round trip.

The great train leaves Chicago on Tuesday evening, August 7th, at 8 o'clock, to reach Springfield on the following morning, via the Illinois Central railroad, the fare from Chicago, to go and return, being three dollars, or less than one third the regular fare. Clubs or Wide Awake associations of fifty will be carried at two dollars and fifty cents per man. Cars will be reserved for ladies, and gentlemen with ladies.

Arrangements have been made with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy (from all stations east of Earl,) the Chicago & Northwestern (at Janesville, Woodstock and Barrington,) the Chicago & Milwaukee (at Racine, Kenosha and Waukegan,) the Galena & Chicago Union (all stations east of Freeport,) and at all points on the Dixon Air Chicago and return, to connect with the

A FARMER'S INVENTION .- J. B. Turner of Jacksonville, Ill., long and intimately connected with the agricultural interests of the west, has invented a machine which cultivates both sides of a row of corn perfectly at a time, and at the rate of ten acres per day. It is said to be very simple in construction, of easy draft and easily managed. He has got it up expressly for his own use. It attracts much attention in that great corn growing region.

A writer called at his printer's and accushis poem, when the typo earnestly replied: "I'm not a pointer—I'm a setter."

Wood, of New York, is soon to be married to a sister of the wife of James Gordon Bennett, of the Herald. During the past year over 100,000 pounds of dried apples have been shipped from Lynchburg, Va., to Australia. The beautiful lake in the Albany Rural

The Breckinridge men of this state have held meetings at Milwaukee, Madison and Beaver Dain. R. B. TREAT, Ch'n of Com. Temperance Meeting this Evening.

. The friends of temperance in this city are reminded of the appointment made last Sabbath, for a meeting for mutual consultation, in the Methodist Church, this evening at fifteen minutes before eight. All who are desirous of adopting measures for the reformation of the inebriate, and for the suppression of the liquor traffic in our city, are earnestly invited to be present .-The most heartrending scenes are daily occuring in this city in consequence of this fearful crime-we have thirty-five legalized liquor shops, where the citizens and guests of Janesville spend tens of thousands, instead of supporting their families and pay. ing their honest debts-in the name of God let us reform these abuses. We invite the liquor dealers and dram drinkers of Janesville to the meeting to-night, to justify their conduct before an outraged and insulted community-come to God's house and meet face to face the victims of your lust. The widows and orphans, forsaken wives and children, have an account to settle with you-we challenge you to meet them. We shall be glad to see our city fathers present also. Let there be an honest expression of the people to-night. H. C. TILTON.

Taxation and Education.

Ought the state, through the medium of the taxing power, or otherwise, to provide means for the suitable education of all the children within her borders? In other words, ought free schools to be sustained at the public expense? Ought our own goodly city of Janesville to furnish facilities for this purpose? With all my heart I answer affirmatively. And in my humble opinion, double-distilled selfishness alone could induce any one to give a negative answer .--Some there may be, perhaps, so regardless of the dearest and best interests of human society, as to wish that they might be entirely exempted from bearing any, even the smallest burden of taxation, for the important and praise-worthy purpose of common school education. The creed of such persons may be fully stated, probably, in the following couplet:

"Dimes and dollars! Dollars and dimes! An empty pocket's the worst of crimes." Though they may draw their purse-strings tightly, and clutch as with a death-grasp the almighty dollar, yet they should be required to give, according to their means, for the education and consequent elevation of the youth of our country. All should thus contribute for this great purpose. To a reasonable school tax no one should object. The state or community that makes no provision for free schools may be justly charged with dereliction of duty.

Our children should all be educated.-Has any one ought to say against this? would carry dismay to the heart of the lordly oppressor, and cause him to tremble for his ill-gotten authority? Education! With his subjects ignorant, and of course degraded, he can keep his foot upon their necks, and make them subservient to his own selfish and tyrannical purposes. But the dawning of intellectual light upon the minds of his oppressed people startles him! And well it may. He sees that knowledge is power, and that standing armies and munitions of war are frail things to him when his crushed subjects begin to discover their rights and the dignified position to the occupancy of which they feel themselves enti-

To us, as a people, has been bequeathed a rich inheritance. The blessings of civil and religious freedom are ours. Republican institutions, the best, probably, under heaven, are committed to our charge. We can only preserve these institutions and perpetuate these blessings through the medium of widely diffused and correct education. Educate all the children in the land -elevate the masses, and we are safe.

Says a political writer, a resident of the south,-" Why does the south linger in the rear of many of her sister states in the present rapid march of intelligence and science, and consequent prosperity? Is it not because we have refused to adopt an efficient general system of education, sustained by the taxing power, and carrying its benefits to every child within our borders? Doubtless this is the cause." The southern part of our Union is confessedly the darkest portion. Not because a great part of the population is black, but because there is comparatively more ignorance there than with us. How far this state of things may be chargeable to slavery, is not for me to say here. I have yet a few thoughts more to offer

on this subject. — W. —

Caders.-The question is now revived whether the Cadets at West Point are half 'starved or not. It is said they are.

Madison Schools.-In view of the stringent condition of finances of Madison, the school board have under consideration the propriety of running the city schools but two terms in the year, instead of three, as in former times, until the people shall be betterable to bear taxation for their sup.

It is said that Douglas is coming to Milwankes to repeat "that same old speech," BY J. U. WHITTIER.

How thrills once more, the lengthening chain Of memory, at the thought of thee!
Of dopes, which long in dust have tain, Old dreams come thronging back again, And boyhood lives in mo.
I feel its glow upon my cheek,
Its fullness of the heart the anoth.

s when I learned to hear thee speak, Or raise my doubtful eyes to thine.

I hear again thy low replies, I feel thy arm within my own, I test thy arm within my own, And timidly again upriso
The fringed lids of thy hazel eyes,
With soft brown trosses overblown.
Ah, memories of sweet summer eves,
Of moonlit waves and willowy way,
Of stars, and flowers, and dowy leaves,
And smiles and tones more dear than they!

Ere this, thy quiet eye hath smiled, My ploture of thy youth to see, When half a woman, half a child,

You had a woman, hat a count,
Thy very artlessness begulted,
And folly's self seemed wise in me.
I too can smile when o'er that hour
The lights of memory backward stream,
Yet feel the while that manhood's power
Is vainer than my boyhood's dream.

Years have passed on and left their trace
Of graver care and deeper thought,
And unto me the calm, cold face
Of mankind—and to thee, the graco
Of woman's pensive beauty brought.
On life's rough blast, for blame or praise,
The school-boy's name has widely flown;
Thine, in the green and quiet ways
Of unobtrusive goodness known.

And wilder yet, in thought and deed,
Our still diverging paths incline;
Thins the Generun's sternest creed—
While answers to my spirit's need
The Yorkshire peasant's simple line.
For thee, the priestly right and prayer,
And holy day and solemn packin;
For me the silent reverence where
My brethren gather, slow and caim.

You hath thy spirit left on me An impress Time has worn not out, And something of myself in thee, A shadow from the past, I see Lingering e-en yet thy way about; Not wholly can thy heart unlearn That lesson of its better hours, Nor yet has Time's dull footstep worn To common dust that path of flowers.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned, in behalf of the Madison Band of Hope, would return sincere and heartfelt thanks to our many kind friends at Janesville, for the many favors received from them, for the excellent and cheering music by the Janesville band, for the carriages to convey our citizens to and from the grounds, &c., and especially for the eloquent address of welcome by H. N. Comstock, Esq., and also for the capital quartettes by the Glee Club.

We have not room to name the many of our Madison friends to whom we are under obligations, and trust that the many will not think we have forgotten our indebtedness to them, if we only name a few whose unwearied exertions contributed so largely towards the success of our excursion. We allude especially to Miss Emma Hastings, to Mr. J. C. Berwell, who was a host in himself, to Mr. Sam'l Calkins, and to Mr. Jas. Jones. HERBERT REED. Madison, July 31st, 1860.

Breckinridge Movements,

The Breckinridge men of this state have held meetings at Milwaukee, Madison and Beaver Dam. They were all small gatherings, but they indicate that there is no inconsiderable number of politicians of that stamp in Wisconsin. The only allusion to an electoral ticket was at the Milwaukee meeting, at which the holding of a mass September, was recommended. The Breckinridge party have held their state convention in Indiana, and did not put up a separate electoral ticket, but contented themselves with abusing Douglas. These adroit politicians are "figuring." They are content to help Douglas carry some of the northern states, fearing that "old Abe" will be elected by the people. They want to throw the election into congress, so that Jo Lane will be chosen, and they are making "catspaws" of Douglas and his followers for that purpose. Everybody knows there are no hopes of electing Douglas, and the only other chance there is for the democracy, is to elect Lane. In that case the presidents, son "Band of Hope" to this city, announced secretaries and committee men who figure in these meetings, will take the offices, that there would be no "long faces" there while the Douglas men will be overlooked -cast aside as no longer useful. None but the meekest of men would submit to had therefore been kept in the background such treatment without resenting it.

We are However, if the proposed gathering will do the republican cause in the state the most good by being held at Madison, we say amen to it. Something ought to be done to regain our lost majority in Dane county .-It is good missionary ground, where sinners may be converted, and a great many lings of such men as Henry Ward Beecher backsliders re-claimed. On the whole, we are not sure but the committee have decided wisely, and we have no doubt that the republicans of this city and county will do their share in making the proposed meeting the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the state. The day upon which the meeting is to be held is not named,

The Springfield Meeting.

We have alluded before, to the great gathering of republicans which will come off a Springfield, Ill., on the 8th of August. We presume that there are some who would like to attend from this vicinity and we publish the following railroad arrangement, by which it will be seen that people can go from this city at half fare to Chicago, and from thence for three dollars the round trip.

The great train leaves Chicago on Tuesday evening, August 7th, at 8 o'clock, to reach Springfield on the following morning, via the Illinois Central railroad, the fare from Chicago, to go and return, being three dollars, or less than one third the regular fare. Clubs or Wide Awake associations of fifty will be carried at two dollars and fifty cents per man. Cars will be reserved for ladies, and gentlemen with ladies.

Arrangements have been made with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy (from all stations east of Earl,) the Chicago & Northwestern (at Janesville, Woodstock and Barrington,) the Chicago & Milwaukee (at Racine, Kenosha and Waukegan,) the Galena & Chicago Union (all stations east of Freeport,) and at all points on the Dixon Air Line, to carry passengers at half fare to Chicago and return, to connect with the great excursion train from Chicago.

NORTH CAROLINA,-The returns from North Carolina do not indicate that the Breckinridge candidate for Governor is so badly beaten as it was expected he would be. The know nothing candidate, Pool, is supported by the Douglas men, and must gain 11,560, (Buchanan's majority,) to be time at Halifax. There are balls, regattas, should be beaten, they ought to retire from fire works and military parades in abundthe field at the presidential election.

THE CHANGES .- A Douglas democrat from Pekin, Illinois, stated to a gentleman in Peoria, that since Mr. Schurz's speech in the former place, at least one hundred Germans had left the Douglas democracy and joined the republican ranks.

DEMOCRACY IN THE PAST .- H. J. Zaine exhibited at a republican meeting in Manitowoc, last week, a copy of a handbill for a mation offering $250 for the apprehension terday. The following is the vote in this democratic meeting, used in 1849, when of the kidnappers in order to bring them to city: For Governor, Ellis, dem., 193, Poole, Nelson Dewey was the candidate for governor; Wm. A. Barstow, for secretary of state; Col. Fairchild, of Madison, for treasurer; and S. Park Coon, for attorney general. The following were among the lines, in big capitals: OPPOSITION TO SLAVERY EXTEN-

A democratic paper in Virginia, the Rumney Argus, thinks that in view of the large Douglas faction of the democracy, Bell and ave is often pronounced Zoo ave. This is Everett will carry the state by an overwhelming majority.

The democrats of Vermont have renomi nated Saxe, the poet, as their candidate for governor. This is excessive cruelty. Once that Robert Kennicott, an American natushould have sufficed.

The Douglas party is collapsing in Ala bama. Two of the original Douglas men, nominated on their electoral ticket-J. T. Clements and A. B. Witherall-have declined, and declared their purpose of supporting Breckinridge and Lane. The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser says there are fifty-three papers in that state which sustain these candidates.

Four thousand republicans, headed by one thousand Wide-Awakes, were in procession at Hartford, Connecticut, Friday evening last. There were delegations from Newark, and New Haven. The Hartford Wide Awakes presented to their Newark brethren convention for nominating, on the 4th of a piece of the Charter Oak and an original rail. The Newark Wide-Awakes gave a magnificent blue silk banner to the Hartford boys. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed and great good feeling existed. After the meeting a torchlight procession two miles in length marched all about the city, with music, banners and flags. Speeches were made by Senator Dixon, Gov. Catlin and others.

Mankind are to be led, not driven into religion by harshness; the days of monastic austerity have passed away, and in these times no man is regarded as a Saint, because he wears a long face at Sabbath school excursions. On the contrary, the world, which is in these days a pretty shrewd udge of human character, and is fast divesting itself of superstitious veneration, generally suspects such persons of wearing a mask

Our object at the outset was to say that the speaker alluded to did not design any disrespect to the clergy, and that he venerates them as highly as any man for their good qualities, and for their self. sacrificing exertions to reform the world .-It was an unpremediated piece of pleasantry, on his part, not intended to wound the feelings of any one, but to encourage hilarity and enjoyment among the audience.

The committee of the common council to whom was referred the memorial of the citizens of Janesville, in regard to the Galena and Chicago Union railroad, would aubmit that they deem it advisable to call a public meeting to consider it, and hereby request all persons interested in the sub-

THE COURT ROOM ON FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 3D, at half-past 7 o'clock.

R. B. TREAT, Ch'n of Com. Temperance Meeting this Evening.

. The friends of temperance in this city are reminded of the appointment made last Sabbath, for a meeting for mutual consultation, in the Methodist Church, this evening, at fifteen minutes before eight. All who are desirous of adopting measures for the reformation of the inebriate, and for the suppression of the liquor traffic in our city, are earnestly invited to be present .--The most heartrending scenes are daily occuring in this city in consequence of this fearful crime-we have thirty-five legalized liquor shops, where the citizens and guests of Janesville spend tens of thousands, instead of supporting their families and pay. ing their honest debts-in the name of God let us reform these abuses. We invite the liquor dealers and dram drinkers of Janesville to the meeting to night, to justify their conduct before an outraged and insulted community-come to God's house and meet face to face the victims of your lust. The widows and orphans, forsaken wives and children, have an account to settle with you-we challenge you to meet them. We shall be glad to see our city fathers present also. Let there be an honest expression of the people to-night. H. C. TILTON.

Ought the state, through the medium o the taxing power, or otherwise, to provide means for the suitable education of all the children within her borders? In other words, ought free schools to be sustained at the public expense? Ought our own goodly city of Janesville to furnish facilities for this purpose? With all my heart I answer affirmatively. And in my humble opinion. double-distilled selfishness alone could induce any one to give a negative answer .--Some there may be, perhaps, so regardless of the dearest and best interests of human society, as to wish that they might be entirely exempted from bearing any, even the smallest burden of taxation, for the important and praise-worthy purpose of common school education. The creed of such persons may be fully stated, probably, in the

Though they may draw their purse-strings tightly, and clutch as with a death-grasp the almighty dollar, yet they should be required to give, according to their means, for the education and consequent elevation of the youth of our country. All should thus contribute for this great purpose. To a reasonable school tax no one should object. The state or community that makes no provision for free schools may be justly charged with dereliction of duty.

Our children should all be educated .-Has any one ought to say against this? Do not our republican institutions, in part at least, rest upon the intelligence of our ed," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at people? What, more than anything else, the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin would carry dismay to the heart of the lordly oppressor, and cause him to tremble for his ill-gotten authority? Education! With his subjects ignorant, and of course degraded, he can keep his foot upon their necks, and make them subservient to his own selfish and tyrannical purposes. But the dawning of intellectual light upon the minds of his oppressed people startles him! And well it may. He sees that knowledge is power, and that standing armies and munitions of war are frail things to him when his crushed subjects begin to discover their rights and the dignified position to the occupancy of which they feel themselves entitled.

To us, as a people, has been bequeathed a rich inheritance. The blessings of civil and religious freedom are ours. Republican institutions, the best, probably, under heaven, are committed to our charge. We can only preserve these institutions and perpetuate these blessings through the medium of widely diffused and correct education. Educate all the children in the land -elevate the masses, and we are safe.

south,-" Why does the south linger in the rear of many of her sister states in the present rapid march of intelligence and science, and consequent prosperity? Is it not because we have refused to adopt an efticient general system of education, sustained by the taxing power, and carrying its benefits to every child within our bordere? Doubtless this is the cause." The southern part of our Union is confessedly the darkest portion. Not because a great part of the population is black, but because there is comparatively more ignorance there than with us. How far this state of things may be chargeable to slavery, is not for me to say here.

I have yet a few thoughts more to offer

Past Memorles. BY J. G. WHITTIES.

How thrills once more, the lengthening chain Of memory, at the thought of thee! Old hopes, which long in dust have lain, old dreams come throughing back again,
And boyhood lives in me.
I feel its glow upon my cheek,
Its fullness of the heart is mine,
As when I learned to hear thee speak,
Or raise my doubtful eyes to thine.

I hear again thy low replies, I feel thy arm within my own, And rimidly again upriso
The fringed lide of thy hazel eyes,
With soft brown treases overblown.
An memories of sweet summer eves,
Of mounit waves and willowy way, Of stars, and flowers, and dewy leaves

And smiles and tones more dear than they Erc this, thy quiet eye hath smiled,
My picture of thy youth to see,
When half a woman, helf a child,
Thy very artisesness begulied,
And folly's self seemed wise in me.
I too can smile when o'er that hour
The lights of manners had weet are The lights of memory backward stream, Yet feel the while that manhood's power Is vainer than my boyhood's dream.

Years have passed on and left their trace
Of graver care and deeper thought,
And unto me the calm, cold face
Of mankind—and to thee, the grace Of woman's pensive beauty brought. On life's rough blast, for blame or praise, The echool-boy's name has widely flown;

Thine, in the green and quiet ways Of unobtrusive goodness known. And wilder yet, in thought and deed, Our still diverging paths incline; Thine the Genevan's sternest creed— Thine the General's sternest creed—
While answers to my spirit's need
The Yorkshire peasant's simple line.
For thes, the priestly right and prayer,
And holy day and solemn panin;
For me the silent reverence where
My brethren gather, slow and caim.

Yet hath thy spirit left on me
An impress Time has worn not out,
And something of myself in thee,
A shadow from the past, I see
Lingering e'en yet thy way about;
Not wholly can thy heart unlearn
That lesson of its better hours, Nor yet has Time's dull footstep worn To common dust that path of flowers.

We allude especially to Miss Emma Hastings, to Mr. J. C. Burwell, who was a host in himself, to Mr. Sam'l Calkins, and to Mr. HERBERT REED. Jas. Jones.

RAILROAD MEETING.

The committee of the common council to whom was referred the memorial of the citizens of Janesville, in regard to the Gaiona and Chicago Union railroad, would submit that they deem it advisable to call a public meeting to consider it, and hereby request all persons interested in the subject to meet at

THE COURT ROOM ON FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 3D, at half-past 7 o'clock.

R. B. TREAT, Ch'n of Coin. Temperance Meeting this Evening.

The friends of temperance in this city are reminded of the appointment made last Sabbath, for a meeting for mutual consultation, in the Methodist Church, this evening, at fifteen minutes before eight. All who are desirous of adopting measures for the reformation of the inebriate, and for the suppression of the liquor traffic in our city, are earnestly invited to be present .-The most heartrending scenes are daily occuring in this city in consequence of this fearful crime-we have thirty-five legalized liquor shops, where the citizens and guests of Janesville spend tens of thousands, instead of supporting their families and pay. ing their honest debts-in the name of God let us reform these abuses. We invite the liquor dealers and dram drinkers of Janesville to the meeting to-night, to justify their conduct before an outraged and insulted community-come to God's house and meet face to face the victims of your lust. The widows and orphans, forsaken wives and children, have an account to settle with you--we challenge you to meet them. We shall be glad to see our city fathers present also. Let there be an honest expression of the people to-night. H. C. TILTON.

For the Daily Gazette. Taxation and Education.

Ought the state, through the medium of the taxing power, or otherwise, to provide means for the suitable education of all the children within her borders? In other words, ought free schools to be sustained at the public expense? Ought our own goodly city of Janesville to furnish facilities for this purpose? With all my heart I answer affirmatively. And in my humble opinion, double-distilled selfishness alone could induce any one to give a negative answer .--Some there may be, perhaps, so regardless of the dearest and best interests of human society, as to wish that they might be entirely exempted from bearing any, even the smallest burden of taxation, for the importent and praise-worthy purpose of common school education. The creed of such persons may be fully stated, probably, in the following couplet: "Dimes and dollars: Dollars and dimes: An empty pocket's the worst of crimes."

Though they may draw their purse-strings tightly, and clutch as with a death-grasp the almighty dollar, yet they should be required to give, according to their means, for the education and consequent elevation of the youth of our country. All should thus contribute for this great purpose. To a reasonable school tax no one should object. The state or community that makes no provision for free schools may be justly charged with dereliction of duty. Our children should all be educated .-Has any one ought to say against this? Do not our republican institutions, in part at least, rest upon the intelligence of our people? What, more than anything else, would carry dismay to the heart of the lordly oppressor, and cause him to tremble for his ill-gotten authority? Education! With his subjects ignorant, and of course degraded, he can keep his foot upon their necks, and make them subservient to his own selfish and tyrannical purposes. But the dawning of intellectual light upon the minds of his oppressed people startles him! And well it may. He sees that knowledge is power, and that standing armies and munitions of war are frail things to him when his crushed subjects begin to discover their rights and the dignified position to the occupancy of which they feel themselves entitled. To us, as a people, has been bequeathed a rich inheritance. The blessings of civil and religious freedom are ours. Republican institutions, the best, probably, under heaven, are committed to our charge. We can only preserve these institutions and perpetuate these blessings through the medium of widely diffused and correct education. Educate all the children in the land -elevate the masses, and we are safe.

Says a political writer, a resident of the south,-" Why does the south linger in the rear of many of her sister states in the present rapid march of intelligence and science, and consequent prosperity? Is it not because we have refused to adopt an efficient general system of education, sustained by the taxing power, and carrying its benefits to every child within our borders? Doubtless this is the cause." The southern part of our Union is confessedly the darkest portion. Not because a great part of the population is black, but because there is comparatively more ignorance there than with us. How far this state of things may be chargeable to slavery, is not for me to say here.

I have yet a few thoughts more to offer

on this subject. — W. —

CADETS.—The question is now revived whether the Cadets at West Point are half starved or not. It is said they are.

Madison Schools .- In view of the stringent condition of finances of Madison, the school board have under consideration the propriety of though the city schools but two terms in the year, instead of three, as in former times, until the people shall be betterable to bear taxation for their sup. port.

It is said that Douglas is coming to Milwankee to repeat "that same old speech."

Carlos Santa

Past Memories. BY J. G. WHITTIER.

How thrills once more, the lengthening chain Of momory, at the thought of thee!
Old hopes, which long in dust have lain, old dreams come throughing back again, and boyhood lives in me.
I feel its glow upon my cheek,
Its fullness of the heart is mine,
As when I learned to hear thee speak,
Or raise my doubtful eyes to thine.

I hear again thy low replies,
I feet thy arm within my own,
And timidly again uprise
The fringed lide of thy hazel eyes,
With soft brown tresses overblown.
Ah, memories of sweet summer eves,
Of monolit waves and willowy way,
Of stars, and flowers, and dewy leaves,
And smiles and tones more dear than they!

Ere this, thy quiet eye hath smiled,
My picture of thy youth to see,
When half a woman, half a child,
Thy very artiessness begulied,
And folly's self seemed wise in me.
I too can smile when o'er that hour
The lights of memory backward stream,
Yet feel the while that manhood's power
Is valuer than my boyhood's dream.

Years have passed on and left their trace
Of graver care and deeper thought,
And unto me the calin, cold face
Of mankind—and to thee, the grace
Of woman's pensive hearty brought.
On life's rough blast, for blame or praise,
The school-boy's name has widely flown;
Thine, in the green and quiet ways
Of unobtrusive goodness known.

And wilder yet, in thought and deed,
Our still diverging paths incline;
Thine the Genevan's sternest creed—
While answers to my spirit's need
The Yorkshire peasant's simple line.
For thee, the prically right and prayer,
And holy day and solemn paalm;
For ms the silent reverence where
My brethren gather, slow and caim.

Yet hath thy spirit left on me
An impress Time has worn not out,
And something of myself in thee,
A shadow from the past, I see
Lingaring e'en yet thy way about;
Not wholly can thy heart unicarn
That lesson of its better hours,
Not yet has Time's dull footstap worn
To common dust that path of flowers.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned, in behalf of the Madison Band of Hope, would return sincere and heartfelt thanks to our many kind friends at Janesville, for the many favors received from them, for the excellent and cheering music by the Janesville band, for the carriages to convey our citizens to and from the grounds, &c., and especially for the eloquent address of welcome by H. N. Comstock, Esq., and also for the capital quartettes by the Glee Club.

We have not room to name the many of our Madison friends to whom we are under obligations, and trust that the many will not think we have forgotten our indebtedness to them, if we only name a few whose unwearied exertions contributed so largely towards the success of our excursion. We allude especially to Miss Emma Hastings, to Mr. J. C. Burwell, who was a host in himself, to Mr. Sam'l Calkins, and to Mr.

HERBERT REED. Jas. Jones. Madison, July 31st, 1860. GOOD WHEAT .- Mr. George McCoy, of Magnolia, in this county, sends us a sample from twenty acres of spring wheat which he has just harvested. He says it will yield forty bushels to the acre, of which we have no doubt, judging from the specimen before us. The berry is large and heavy, and is probably the China tea variety.

To Town Superintendents .- The superintendents of schools in the several towns and cities in the county, are reminded that their reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors must be made between the 1st and 15th of this month.

Buuls, onute and acceptance which we after at 25 per cent less than former prices.—We will sell a Good Gaiter at 44 cents. Our stock 1 complete in every department, and we are fully prepared to supply the wants of our numerons customers.
